1. Overview

- On June 24, President Donald Trump posted on Truth Social that “Iran has informed the U.S. that ... there are “NO TOLLS, NO INSURANCE COSTS, & NO OTHER CHARGES OF ANY KIND BEING SOUGHT OR RECEIVED BY IRAN ON SHIPS TRAVELING THE STRAIT OF HORMUZ.” He added, “If this is false information, negotiations would end, immediately!”
 - » President Trump also noted that “no money has been given to Iran, or released from their money to them, by the U.S.,” repeating earlier claims.
 - » However, the president also stated, “We will be releasing some of their money, that is totally controlled by us, to our Farmers and Ranchers, for the purchase of Corn, Wheat, Soybeans, and more. Food is desperately needed in Iran, and we will be purchasing it for them exclusively from the United States.”
- For the first time since Operations Epic Fury and Roaring Lion began on February 28, the price of Brent crude oil fell to below $75 per barrel on June 24.
- On June 23, President Trump stated that Iranian officials who claimed Tehran has not agreed to accept International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) inspectors into Iran were “wrong,” stating that “they told us inside [negotiations in Switzerland], and we have it down—100% inspections.”
 - » He added, “if they [the Iranian officials] were right, I’d cancel the meetings right now.”

- On June 23, a war powers resolution demanding the end of the war in Iran passed in the Senate for the first time, with 50 votes in favor, including four Republicans, 48 votes against, and two abstentions. The resolution previously passed a vote in the House on June 3.
 - » President Trump condemned the vote on Truth Social.
- In a statement as negotiations with Lebanon began in Washington, D.C., on June 23, Israeli Ambassador to the United States Yechiel Leiter claimed that including Iran in the negotiations about Lebanon is “a train wreck.”
- On June 23, Israel’s Channel 13 reported that the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) is ready to begin partially withdrawing soldiers from positions in southern Lebanon. An unnamed senior official claimed that the IDF “captured territory in recent days for the purpose of negotiations, to then withdraw from them.”

2. Diplomatic Engagement

Iran

- In a meeting on June 24 in Abu Dhabi, the first stop on his Gulf trip this week, Secretary of State Marco Rubio met with Emirati President Mohamed bin Zayed; the two officials discussed the MOU, efforts to fully restore secure passage through the Strait of Hormuz, and their interest in regional peace and stability. Secretary Rubio also “reaffirmed the U.S. commitment to the security of the Emirates.”
- Head Iranian negotiator Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf claimed on June 24 that “the Islamabad understanding was not the result of pressure and coercion, but rather the result of the resistance and authority of the brave Iranian nation.”
 - » He added, “that is why, the Islamabad memorandum of understanding became a declaration of America’s defeat.”
- Speaking at a press conference in Islamabad, Pakistan, on June 23, Iranian President Masoud Pezeshkian stated that “we will never negotiate with anyone, under any circumstances, ever, about our defensive capabilities,” noting that Iran’s missiles were not addressed in the MOU and claiming Iranian missiles “will never be” included in an agreement with the United States.
 - » President Pezeshkian stated, “If the missiles we have for our defense did not exist, Israel and the United States would have ploughed Iran just like Gaza.”
- Speaking on June 23 from Abu Dhabi, Secretary Rubio stated that “No country is allowed to charge tolls or fees on an international waterway,” stating, “That’s existing international law. That’s the way it is in international waterways all over the world, and that’s the way we expect it’ll be here,” with regards to the Strait of Hormuz.

Lebanon

- On June 23, Secretary Rubio claimed that the reason a halt to fighting in Lebanon was part of the MOU with Iran is because “there’s an Iranian issue with regard to Lebanon, and that is their support and sponsorship of Hezbollah, and so that factor will be discussed as part of our conversations with the Iranians.”
 - » He added, “as far as the future of Lebanon, the future of Lebanon belongs to the Lebanese people through their sovereign elected government, and that’s who we’re going to be working with.”
- Describing Iran’s involvement in negotiations about Lebanon as “a train wreck” on June 23, Israeli Ambassador to the United States Yechiel Leiter claimed “the train was heading in a very clear direction: full peace between the countries, Iran and its malign influence out of Lebanon, the disarmament of Hezbollah, and peace and security for Lebanon and Israel,” but “today, this train is in danger of derailing. I hope we can get it back on track.”

- » Ambassador Leiter indicated that “the basic premise [of these talks] was that Iran was not involved, and the main discussion is about Lebanon and Hezbollah—not about the extent to which Iran can restrain Hezbollah.”
- » He added that “we all support President Trump’s vision of ensuring that Iran no longer has nuclear capabilities, ballistic missiles or the ability to funnel money to its proxies to threaten its neighbors and maintain its regional hegemony,” but “I fear that the concept of ‘deconfliction’ is misplaced,” a reference to the new deconfliction mechanism.
 - Ambassador Leiter indicated that “Israel is not in conflict with Lebanon. Therefore, deconfliction is not the issue. All that is needed is coordination with Lebanon.”
- On June 23, the same day that the latest round of Israeli-Lebanese talks began in Washington, D.C., Lebanese President Joseph Aoun stated that “we accept nothing less than an end to the Israeli occupation and at the same time, the fall of foreign tutelage, because our only option is our national sovereignty and our sole wager is on the Lebanese state.”
 - » He added that he hopes the talks will be “decisive along the path of achieving what we seek for the good of our nation and people,” including “the full restoration of Lebanon’s sovereignty over every grain of its soil.”

3. U.S. and Israeli Operations

Lebanon

- On June 24, Israeli forces struck two Hezbollah gunmen in the area of the Ali Taher ridge, who the IDF claimed “posed a threat to forces operating in the security zone.”
- On June 24, Israeli Defense Minister Israel Katz declared that “even if there is an American demand,” the IDF will not withdraw its troops from the Israeli-controlled security zone in southern Lebanon.
 - » He continued, stating, “200,000 [southern Lebanese] residents will not return [to the homes they evacuated from]. Because what happened in the past in security zones, where there was also a civilian population [present], was roadside bombs and attacks against the soldiers, and therefore we will not allow that.”
- On June 23, the IDF shot at four Hezbollah fighters operating a bulldozer and riding a motorcycle in the Israeli military’s zone in southern Lebanon.

4. Strait of Hormuz Shipping and Blockade Status

- On June 23, Oman’s state news agency reported that the Omani government has collaborated with the International Maritime Organization to establish a short-term maritime corridor to help ships in need of crossing the Strait of Hormuz.

5. Estimated Casualties of Iranian Operations

 - » Lebanon: At least 4,175 people have been killed, and nearly 12,164 have been wounded—figures that do not distinguish between Hezbollah operatives and civilians.
 - » Oman: At least three people have been killed, and at least 17 have been wounded.
 - » Qatar: Around 20 people have been wounded, and seven were killed on March 22 in a helicopter crash in Qatari territorial waters due to a technical issue.
 - » Saudi Arabia: Three people have been killed, including a Saudi national and two foreign nationals, and at least 23 others have been injured.
 - » Syria: At least four people have been killed in Syria, and several others have been injured.
 - » United Arab Emirates: 13 people have been killed, and at least 230 have been injured.

6. Threats, Condemnations, and Statements from Iranian Officials

- On June 23, Hezbollah Secretary General Naim Qassem asserted during a televised address that “we now have a ceasefire. The withdrawal must take place according to a timetable. Israel has no choice but to fully withdraw from all Lebanese territory, without retaining an inch.” He claimed this would take the form of “Israel withdraw[ing] and the Lebanese army deploy[ing] exclusively south of the Litani River.”

7. International Response

- On June 24, IAEA Director General Rafael Grossi stated that his agency will be conducting inspections of Iran's nuclear program, asserting that “the inspections will indeed take place,” and adding that “we will be working on the modalities [of the inspections]—dates, procedures, places—very soon.”

- On June 24, Reuters reported that a week prior, the diplomatic service of the European Union (EU) proposed the establishment of a three-year joint civilian-military mission in Lebanon. According to Reuters, the EU proposal calls for the mission to support “the Lebanese authorities in reinforcing territorial control and border security through strengthening the capacities of the LAF [Lebanese Armed Forces] and the ISF [Lebanon’s Internal Security Forces].”
 - » The proposal document reportedly states that “the Mission would focus on strengthening land border regiments; Mobile Force and Regional Gendarmerie Units; enhancing Intelligence Surveillance and Reconnaissance (ISR) capabilities; and reinforcing maritime security capacities, including border and port security governance.”
- On June 23, the Danish government announced that Denmark would join several other countries in the British and French-led effort to assist in reopening the Strait of Hormuz for safe passage.
 - » Danish Defense Minister Jeppe Bruus stated that “This will involve a contribution including a group of interpreters, drone capabilities, staff officers as well as the possibility of mobilizing expertise in the cyber domain.”
